Will Not Happen If Amarillo Man Has His Way With City, County

A Potter County citizen who lives on Bell Avenue in Amarillo appeared before the Randall County Commissioners Court Monday afternoon to protest the move to change the flamable truck route from Western Avenue to Bell. The move was announced last week as approved by the Highway Commission in Austin. J. C. Hawkins, of 1111 Bell, told the commission he was representing homeowners in the area in appearing before the court. "It looks foolish to keep moving the thing a little bit at a time," he said. "They should have a truck route out around the city."

Hawkins said he had called the mayor of Amarillo, R. C. Jordan, requesting an audience with the city commission and had obtained an appointment for next Tuesday. He said his group would have a petition signed at that time formally protesting the location of the route on Bell.

Hawkins said Jordan told him that the city of Amarillo did not want to locate the route on Bell Avenue, but was being forced to do so by the reluctance of Randall County in providing right of way for another route.

Wherever the route is located, a 100-foot right of way strip would be necessary to provide the paving.

Commissioner C. Y. Johnson told Hawkins that "somebody is trying to pass the buck" in saying the move is Randall County's fault. "All we know is what we've read in the paper," he said.

Hawkins told the court that moving the route to Bell Avenue would ruin property already being used for residential purposes. "If the route had already been there, I wouldn't have anyone to blame if I built a house there," he said.

"They put restrictions on the kind of house you can build and all that. I've got a $14,000 house there. Then they come along and put something like a truck route in front of your house."

Hawkins said he doubted if a truck route would enable the property to be ultimately used as commercial property. He said the block is bounded at one end by a railroad track and at the other end by the Highway 66 traffic circle with the corners already taken for commercial purposes.

The movement to change the truck route off Western came last spring at a meeting between the highway department, Amarillo, Potter County and Randall County. Randall County was represented by County Judge Roy Joe Stevens.

At the meeting, Judge Stevens was asked to see if the commissioners court would be willing to supply right of way for paving a farm-to-market type strip to shift the truck route from Western to Bell. The court agreed to the move if the cost of the paving was not deducted from the county's allotment of farm-to-market road funds.

Later this summer, the highway department said it might prefer moving the truck route farther west.

Mayor Jordan appeared before the highway commission in August and proposed that the City of Amarillo would be willing to pave the section of Bell Avenue that lies within the city limits of Amarillo to connect with Highway 66. He proposed a 75-foot right of way inside the city and 100 feet without.

Of the 4.5 miles of Bell Avenue that would be used under the plan for the truck route, .7 of a mile lies in Potter County and the rest is in Randall County.

When the highway department approval was announced last week, Mayor Jordan was quoted as being jubilant over the decision. "The City Commission is gratified at the action of the highway commission in granting this important new artery and I feel that Randall County officials are still anxious to cooperate as they had formerly agreed."

Hawkins told the county commission Monday that Jordan said the city did not want to put the truck route on Bell. Hawkins mentioned the possibility of moving the route farther west.

If it were moved one mile farther west, the route would leave the to-be-built Amarillo-Canyon expressway in the vicinity of Sen. Grady Hazlewood's property. If it were moved two miles west, it would branch out of Highway 60 one mile west of the proposed expressway.

The location two miles west of of Bell starts at the west city limits of Canyon on what used to be the old Amarillo road and is now paved for a few miles. The commissioners said the type of paving now on the road would not take continued heavy use by trucks.

In other action, the commission approved a trade with Jack Livesay for his property needed for the Happy highway widening. Live-

County Residents Dominate Contests At Tri-State Fair During Last Week

As judging in the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo continued last week, Randall County citizens kept piling up impressive numbers of awards.

Jack Campbell, FFA student at Canyon High School, practically owned the Spotted Poland China show in the Swine Division. He showed both the grand champion boar and grand champion show, and dominated the various classes of contests.

His boar was Silver Black and his sow was Betty Gal. In addition, another of his boars, Silver Boy, was reserve champion.

He took first and fourth in the senior spring boar class, first and second in the junior spring boar class; first in junior yearling sow, second in senior spring gilts, first and second in junior spring gilts, first in young herds, first in get of sire, first in produce of dam, and first in breeder-feeder litter.

Campbell has entered his pigs in the South Plains Fair in Lubbock this week, and will show his champions at the State Fair of Texas in Dallas.

Just as Campbell topped the Spotted Poland China show, the Hales family ended up with practically all the ribbons in the Holstein show.

The grand champion bull, Forsgate Supreme Burke, was shown by H. B. and Jones Hales. The grand champion cow was Duchess Nena Spofford, owned by Richmond Hales.

Reserve champion bull honors went to Hales' Ormsby Spotlight, owned by H. B. and Jones Hales. Reserve champion cow honors were given to Hales' Spotlight Ormsby Plebe, owned by Richmond Hales.

Eagle B-Team Plays Thursday

The Canyon High School B-Team will play the Plainview Junior High School squad Thursday night in Buffalo Stadium.

The Canyon B-Team was defeated last week by the Hereford B-Team by a score that brooked fair to equal the score between the A-teams of the two schools in reverse order. The final score, however, was 52-13 in favor of Hereford.

The Plainview school squad is made up of ninth graders, the same classification as freshman in Canyon High School. Canyon's B-Team is made up mostly of freshmen, also.

Mrs. A. F. Bennett returned home Friday from Clarendon where she attended the funeral of her sister, Mrs. Monica Harvey. She was accompanied by her son, Clyde Bennett, and family and daughter, Mrs. Frank Metcalf and Mr. Metcalf of Panhandle.

Tall Grows the New Jailhouse

By late last week, walls of the new courthouse annex were up to the roof line and steel for partitioning in the jail on the second floor was being lowered by a crane large enough for a building several stories higher.

Scouts Slate Paper Pickup

Boy Scout Troop 97 has scheduled a scrap paper pickup Friday afternoon.

All who have been saving old newspapers and magazines are asked to put the bundles in their front yards. The troop will pick up the bundles during the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Keeling and children of Jal, N. M., visited last week with Mrs. Alfred Bellah.

17 Per Cent Jump Expected With Campus Enrollment Nearing 1,750

Enrollment for the fall semester at West Texas State College is expected to reach about 1,750 on the Canyon campus and about 1,450 at the Amarillo Center, when final registration figures are available.

Dr. James P. Cornette, president of WT, said Tuesday that he expects total increase over last year to be about 17 per cent.

With several days remaining for students to sign for classes, final counts can be estimated on basis of past years' records. Students have until Oct. 3 on the Canyon campus for last possible enrollment, while Amarillo Center will close registration on Monday night.

By noon Tuesday, a total of 1,674 students had completed enrollment and payment of fees here on the Canyon campus. About another 100 can be expected to enroll.

Following first class night Monday at the Center, Dr. Roy G. Boger, director had reported more than 1,150 signed for classes there. Total for both divisions was about 2,824. Total should reach 3,200.

These figures compare with final counts last year of 1,514 on the Canyon campus, and 1,267 at the Center.

$110 Ready for Last Drawing

The last Canyon Bank Day drawing will be Saturday afternoon with the prize totaling $110.

The drawing is being discontinued, at least temporarily, because of a lack of public interest, Chamber of Commerce Manager Roland Black said Tuesday.

Mrs. Joe Prichard was not present in a participating store last Saturday and failed to win the award for last week. She was sent a $5 consolation award. The winning name for the last drawing will be announced at 3 p. m. Saturday.

Grand Jury Lauds Law Enforcement

Following its final meeting Monday, the April term Randall County Grand Jury issued a report that praised the over-all law enforcement situation in the county, but called for the addition of night patrolmen in the sheriff's office.

The report, signed by R. C. Yarborough as foreman, is as follows:

"This grand jury feels that the over-all situation from the standpoint of law enforcement of this County is in good condition; however, we would like to reiterate and if possible, place additional emphasis on the fact that the welfare of the County would be, in our opinion, greatly improved by the Commissioner's Court taking immediate action on the problem of furnishing a night patrol car and the personnel to manage it for the Sheriff's office. It has been brought to our attention from a number of sources that this need exists and we feel that it should be given priority treatment. We also feel that the present population and the existing growth factor makes it advisable that an assistant be provided for the District Attorney's office so that the District Attorney can give more time to preparation of and trial of criminal cases."

A new grand jury term begins Monday morning.

Mrs. Monica Harvey Dies in Amarillo

Mrs. Monica Harvey, pioneer resident of Clarendon and sister of Mrs. Anne Bennett of Canyon, died Thursday in Amarillo where she had lived for the past two years.

Funeral services were conducted Friday morning in St. Mary's Catholic Church in Clarendon with the Rev. Andrew Quante of Groom officiating.

Burial was in the Clarendon Catholic cemetery.

Mrs. Harvey, 86, was born Jan. 4, 1870, in Rocky Comfort, Ark.

In addition to Mrs. Bennett, survivors include three sons, J. J. Harvey, Phillips, B. W. Harvey, Gentry, Ark., and R. L. Harvey, Amarillo; another sister, Mrs. Mary T. Dollarhide, Dallas; 15 grandchildren and 27 great-grandchildren.

New Policeman Starts Oct. 1

A second city policeman will be added to the force in Canyon on Oct. 1.

The city commission employed Jim Gillespie, 34, at a called meeting Tuesday night.

A former member of the police departments in Altus, Okla., and Amarillo, Gillespie is presently working as a radio dispatcher for the Potter County sheriff's office.

He began working as a policeman in Altus in 1949. In 1950, Gillespie moved to Amarillo and joined the police department there, where he stayed until late 1952. He switched to the Potter County sheriff's office in 1952 and stayed until 1954, when he began working for Porter Cattle Company in New Mexico.

Gillespie moved back to Amarillo last May and resumed his work for the sheriff. During his police career, he has attended the police short course at Texas A&M, the Amarillo Police Department school and several courses taught by the FBI.

A native of Altus, Gillespie was graduated from high school there. He is married and has three children, Patricia Ann, 2, Thomas Dale, 3, and James Lee, 8.

Faculty Slates Annual Reception

West Texas State College faculty will entertain students Tuesday night at a reception held annually during the opening weeks of the fall semester.

The reception, under direction of a student welfare committee headed by W. Mitchell Jones and Miss Ruth Cross, deans of men and women, will be held from 8 until 10 p. m. in Cousins Hall lounge.

Students will be greeted by a receiving line including WT President and Mrs. James P. Cornette, Mr. and Mrs. J. Henry Sears of Hereford, member of the Board of Regents, Texas State Teachers Colleges Dean and Mrs. Walter H. Juniper, and Dean and Mrs. James L. Russell.

Faculty and their wives and husbands will meet students in the various lounge rooms, with refreshments to be served. A dance for students usually is held following the reception.

YOUNG TRIAL OPENS TUESDAY

A 300-man special venire has been called to report Tuesday morning for the beginning of the trial of Clarence Edward Young, who is accused of murdering Robert Boyd Chapman in the roadside park south of Canyon during the week preceding St. Patrick's Day this year.

Dist. Atty. A. W. Lair, who has announced he will qualify prospective jurors on the death penalty, said he expects to obtain a jury in Randall County. Young will be represented by W. J. Flesher and V. G. Kolius, both Amarillo attorneys who were appointed by 47th Dist. Judge E. E. Jordan.

Young's attorneys filed for a change of venue early Wednesday morning, citing prejudice in the county against Young. Judge Jordan was holding court in Armstrong County and was not available for a ruling.

The discovery of Chapman's mutilated body by two Tulia youths on St. Patrick's Day spurred an intensive search for the killer, which ended with the arrest of Young on May 29 in Wichita, Kan. Following his arrest, Young admitted the murder and gave a signed statement to Lair.

A directed plea of "not guilty" was given Young by Judge Jordan at formal arraignment on the charge on July 2. The judge told Young he could not accept any other plea on the charge since the state was seeking the death penalty.

Under the state law, a trial on a capital charge in which the state seeks the death penalty must be heard by a jury. A defendant is not allowed to plead guilty.

PICNIC POSTPONED

The Social Pioneers picnic, scheduled Sept. 27, has been postponed until Oct. 4.

Buffs Take On Sul Ross Saturday

If comparative scores mean anything, Saturday's football game between West Texas State and Sul Ross should be as tight as a 11-man line.

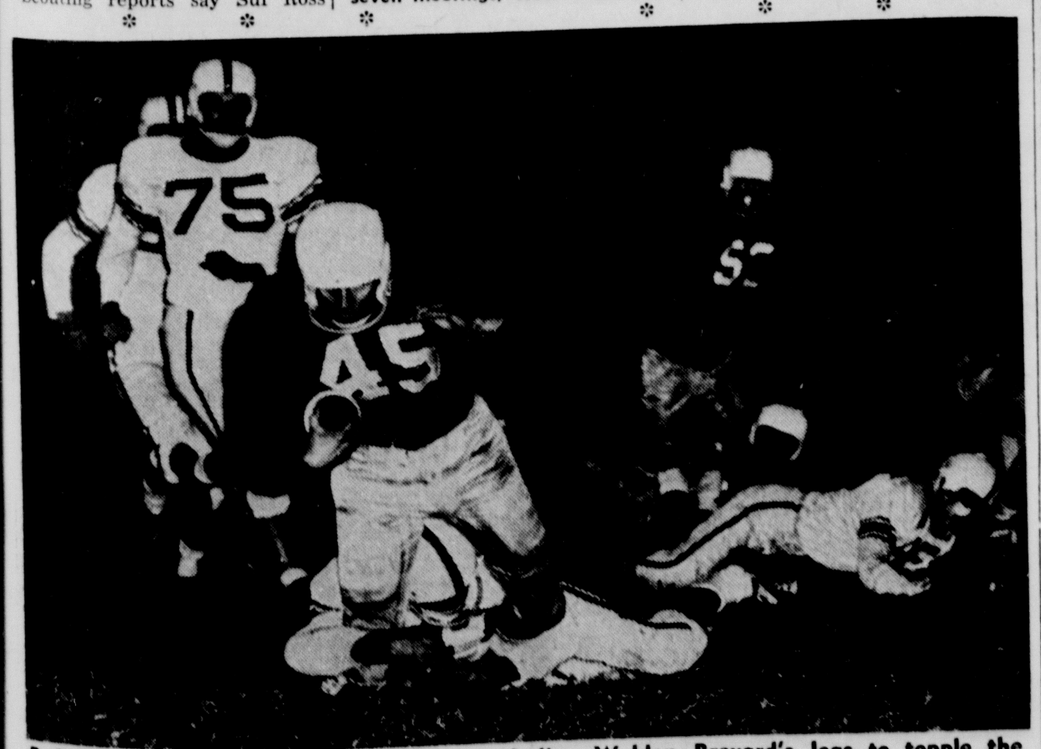

In its only start to date, Sul Ross rolled over University of Corpus Christi, 26-7, last week. The host Buffaloes have won their two outings, including a 29-6 decision over the same Corpus Christi club.

Scouting reports say Sul Ross has the "beefiest" line the West Texans will face all season. Lobo tackles Carl Brawley and J. C. Wood weigh 260 and 225, respectively, and center Jimmie Smith, a converted tackle, tips the scales at 240. The entire Sul Ross line averages 212, compared to 204 for the Buffs.

Saturday's game will revive a rivalry that started in 1931 but was dropped in 1939. In their seven meetings, West Texas has won five times, lost none and there have been two ties.

All games between the two schools have been close though, the Buffs scoring more than 10 points only twice. Past scores:

1931—WT 7; Sul Ross 2
1932—WT 7; Sul Ross 7
1935—WT 7; Sul Ross 6
1936—WT 0; Sul Ross 0
1937—WT 10; Sul Ross 0
1938—WT 16; Sul Ross 7
1939—WT 26; Sul Ross 6

Buffalo Rex Loftis applies the pressure to Indian Weldon Brevard's legs to topple the McMurry back during the third quarter of the game. Coming up in the rear is Buffalo Harold Lamb and Indian Bill Houston.

Views and Comments

How many times have you heard someone comment, "You can give this country back to the Indians."

Well, sir, it's beginning to look like the Indians might just take us at our words and take this country back, lock, stock, and Amarillo, too.

Of course we all feel like the Supreme Court won't hear the case offered by the Choctaw Indians, and of course the Supreme Court wouldn't grant the request for title to most of the Texas Panhandle.

But don't be too sure. Some Yankee sociologist is liable to get up and testify that the natural development of the Choctaws is stunted because they have been deprived of their right to the Panhandle, and that the ownership of the land by those who now live on it is nothing more than discrimination against a minority—and there goes our land.

The Supreme Court, you may remember, is not above abrogating treaties, re-writing laws of Congress and changing the words in the Constitution. After all, some of us who live here have been awfully critical of the Supreme Court recently, and the justices might want to see a little justice done.

Just what the historical and legal implications of the Indian-filed brief are, I'm sure I couldn't say.

As you know, the Choctaw Indian Nation has filed a claim with the Supreme Court for some 6,589,000 acres in the Panhandle, that land lying west of the 100th parallel between the Canadian and Red Rivers. The 100th parallel is the eastern boundary of the Panhandle, and we all know where the Red and Canadian Rivers lie, more or less.

The Indians claim that the acreage they want was ceded to them by a treaty of Oct. 18, 1820, named Doak's Stand Treaty.

The wording of the treaty calls for the Choctaws to get land bounded from a point on the Arkansas River up the river to the Canadian Fork, then up the Canadian to it's source, then south to the Red River and down the Red to three miles below the mouth of the Little River and then back to the beginning point.

On Sept. 27, 1830, the treaty was changed from "up the Canadian to its source," to read "up the Canadian to its source, if within the United States."

At that time, the boundary of the United States was the 100th parallel. The Indians claim that the United States knew that the source of the Canadian was outside the limits of the nation at the time the first treaty was signed, and the second treaty deprived the Choctaw Indians of lands which should rightfully belong to them. They say it was taken from them by action which could not be called "fair and honorable dealings."

That may well be so, since the history of dealings between the United States and the various Indian tribes is not overly burdened with "fair and honorable dealings" on the part of the United States. However, it is hard for me to understand how the United States could give the Indians territory which did not belong to the United States.

It's hard for me to understand how the United States is doing similar things now, though.

By the way, none of the Indians here for the Palo Duro Indian Ceremonial were of the Choctaw Indian Nation.

It's an odds on bet that your income tax form will be checked, especially if there is some unusual thing about it, according to Changing Times.

Out of the 60 million returns, some 40 million will probably get only a check of arithmetic computations. Of the remaining 20 million, those with incomes between $5,000 and $50,000 and from businesses which gross less than $30,000 are liable to a review.

The probability of closer inspection is increased if you list unusually large medical deductions, interest payments or contributions. If you request a large refund, you can be sure your return will be audited.

There doesn't seem to be much of any way out of it. Uncle Sam's going to go through your pockets.

In November, nine amendments to the Texas Constitution which will be voted on by the people of the state. So that you may know what the amendments are about, we will print here, from time to time, an explanation of each.

The first, named House Joint Resolution No. 31, would add a new section, to be designated as Section 51-c, to Article III of the constitution.

It would provide that the Legislature could grant aid and compensation to any person who has paid a fine or served a sentence in prison under the laws of the state for an offense for which the person is not guilty.

The second, named House Joint Resolution No. 23, would rewrite Section 9 of Article VIII.

It would give the commissioners courts of the various counties the authority to vary the tax rates each year without having to get taxpayers approval at a special election.

The constitution now limits the county tax allocation to not more than 25 cents for county purposes, not more than 15 cents for roads and bridges, not more than 15 cents to pay jurors and not more than 25 cents for the erection of buildings, streets, sewers, waterworks and other permanent improvements.

The present limit for the four funds is 80 cents on the $100 valuation. In addition, other levies for interest and sinking fund and other special funds may be added to the four basic funds.

Under the amendment, the commissioners courts could change the limits of any of the funds, so long as the total of the four basic funds does not exceed 80 cents per $100 valuation. For instance, if a county wanted to build a new courthouse without having a bond election, the commissioners could re-allocate the various funds, raising the fourth fund to, say, 50 cents, and lowering the other three basic funds to a total of 30 cents. The amendment would not allow a general increase in tax rates; only a change in the allocation of the present tax rates.

At present, the tax allocation can be changed, but only after a special election in which the voters of the county approve such changes.

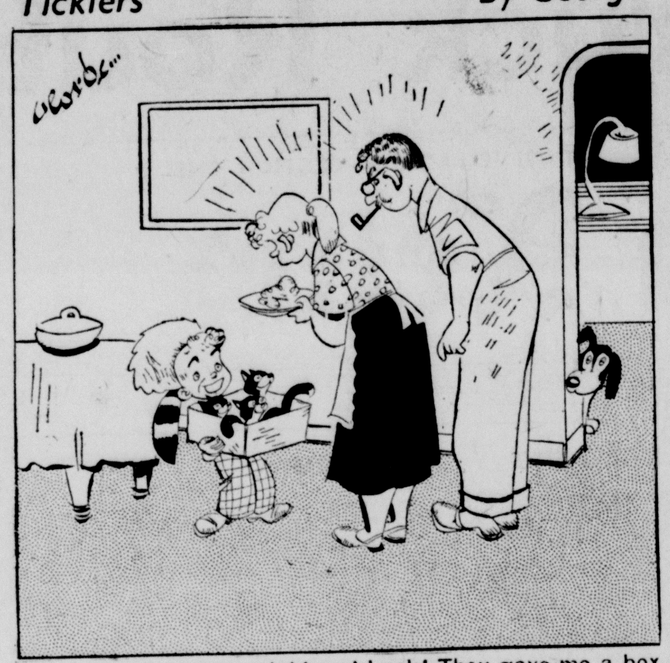

Those who favor the amendment argue that it is business-like, that it would allow the county commissioners to adjust the tax allocation from year to year to fit the local situation.

Those who oppose the amendment say that the tax allocation limits protect the taxpayer from loose fiscal policies. They say the allocations presently given in the constitution should not be changed or adjusted without the express approval of tax paying voters.

Send Soil Samples Now If You Want Quick Return of Laboratory Tests

COLLEGE STATION—The number of soil samples being sent to the Soil Testing Laboratory at College Station have dropped to a new low for this season, reports M. K. Thornton, extension agricultural chemist who has charge of the lab.

The chemist says the big reason for the slow down is the continuing drouth and the uncertainty that rains will come in time to permit the seeding of fall and winter pastures or winter legume crops. But Thornton is sure that Texas farmers and ranchmen who go ahead with their planning will be far ahead when rains do come.

General rains could cause a last minute rush of soil samples to the lab which would overtax the facilities and delay analysis reports to producers for many days; thus slowing the job of seeding if the lab report is to be of value.

Thornton believes that farmers should be prepared to take advantage of any situation which gives them enough moisture to insure a stand of fall seeded crops.

By submitting soil samples now while the lab is not too busy, producers can be assured of getting fast returns. Too, they will be in a position to go ahead with the planning for fall and winter crops.

The dollar spent for a soil analysis is often described as the best dollar which can be spent for fertilizer. The soil analysis could mean the difference between an average or below fall and winter cropping season or a highly successful one.

Top yields of high quality forage are needed now in every section of Texas and the use of fertilizers will play a big part in making these objectives possible, says Thornton.

A soil analysis will show the amount and kind of fertilizer needed to get the most from crops or pastures regardless of the growing season.

Around the Town . .

By MRS. CLYDE W. WARWICK

We hear and read much about Korea these days, but few of us give any serious thought to this little far away Asiatic country which is only about twice the size of Kentucky, but where Kentucky, a rich and fertile state, has a population of only three million, Korea, a poor country and not so fertile, has a population of over 29 million—a great many of whom live in poverty, hunger and in many instances, starvation. This year two natives of Korea are enrolled in W.T.S.C. Mrs. Marshal Davis, who was born in North Korea and with her parents, one sister and two brothers had to flee to South Korea when the Russians invaded their country, taking, as she said, "Only our bodies, what clothes we wore and something for our heads to keep the bombing from our ears." "Oh!" she said, as she covered her ears, "that awful bombing." You felt she would never, as long as she lived, forget the horrors of that bombing.

Mrs. Davis, she said, "Call me Sue, that is what my name means in English," is married to Marshall Davis who is enrolled in W.T.S.C. where he is working on his M.A. He is a native of California, but said he had relatives in Amarillo whom he had visited and he had always wanted to come to Texas, so chose this college for his graduate work.

Marshall served in Korea with the Korean Military Advisory group and had sent the names of several young people to his mother, Mrs. Mary Lee Davis of Los Gatos, Calif. Mrs. Davis, a registered nurse, enjoyed corresponding with these young people.

She corresponded with Sue for one and a half years and then invited her to come to America, offering to sponsor her if she would come. Sue came, lived with her and attended school in California. When Marshall came home they met again and were married in June of this year.

Mrs. Marshall says she is tall for a Korean. She is five feet, two and one half inches tall and weighs a little less than 90 pounds. She has known starvation and to her, our well stocked grocery stores are beyond belief. She was amazed to find dog food on the grocery shelves and can hardly yet believe that we BUY food for dogs. She has visions of the starving children in Korea. She said no one ever fed a dog. She said that in the country and in the mountain districts people ate dogs and these were fed as they provided food.

She remembers the cattle and wheat that Texas sent to Korea, saying they did not raise many cattle for food, that oxen were used for work purposes and when they became too old to work were butchered and eaten.

Her father and her oldest brother both served as captains in the South Korean army.

I asked her if her family would like to come to America. "Oh! yes," she replied, "Everyone wants to come to America." Then she said, "I am so fortunate to get to come to this wonderful country."

She had not met the other student from Korea, Chan Wha Chun, but, they met at Rest Cottage and then the Marshalls invited Chan to have dinner with them.

Mrs. Marshall said their main food in Korea was rice, vegetables, chicken, fish and meat. The meat is so high that many cannot buy much meat. She said they did not eat fish like the Japanese do whose main food is fish, saying they ate lots of vegetables.

In talking to this delightful, young, 22-year-old girl one feels her deep gratitude and appreciation for opportunity to come to this wonderful country of ours and gives us a new value of the things we were born to and take too much for granted.

brought me thoughts

The President opened his campaign over TV on Wednesday night. In a calm, firm way he stated his reasons for his re-election. There was no bally-hoo or running down of his opponents. He is proudest of his record for peace and it was this important topic he stressed most.

Listening to him, watching him for that half hour, one wonders why the President enjoys such popularity. He has no pretentions to good looks, almost bald, a competent speaker who makes his points clear but no orator, not a professional politician and with a question about his health in the minds of all, Eisenhower has secured a hold upon the American people unequalled by Franklin Roosevelt even at the peak of success.

His military career is no doubt a great help. He has the advantage of having been the victorious commander-in-chief of the Allied forces in a war which secured for the United States world leadership, and linked with this is his Christian conscience, his sense of duty and service.

Perhaps his greatest hold is his ability to be folksy without being a "hick." This is a virtue that Eisenhower shares with Lincoln. He has great charm — not the polished charm of Roosevelt — but rather the barefoot, Huck Finn charm of the average American boy, or is it that we Americans believing in Democracy like to see this man who fulfills our ideals, a boy, born in poverty rising to the highest place in the world.

Mrs. LaVell Boehning, who lives 10½ miles northeast of Canyon, made us some of these delicious pickles. They are the best I have ever eaten. We like them better than candy. Cut 75 medium sized cucumbers in inch pieces. Wash and put in crock or enamel pan. Do not use aluminum. Bring to a boil one gallon of water and one cup of salt, pour this mixture, while boiling, over pickles, let stand for 7 days. Skim every day. On 7th day drain off this brine water. Bring to a boil one gallon of water and one teaspoon of alum and pour over cucumbers. Make this up fresh every morning for 3 mornings.

On 4th morning drain off alum water. Boil 6 cups sugar, 5 cups vinegar, ½ cup pickling spices. Pour over cucumbers, let stand until 5th morning. On 5th morning pour off mixture, add 2 more cups sugar, bring to boil and pour back on pickles. Sixth morning, add 1 cup of sugar, bring to boil and pour over pickles; 7th morning drain liquid off, bring to boiling point. Pack pickles in jars, fill jars with boiling liquid, seal. They are ready to eat at once.

It takes 14 days to make these pickles, but only takes a few minutes a day. I bought cucumbers, three-fourths of a bushel, from Mrs. Louie Raef, who lives in Umbarger. I called her and she does not have any more for sale. These made 31 pints and the total cost was 10¼ cents a pint.

How can we say that talk is cheap when the two words, 'I do," can cost a man at least half of what he earns.

The pampas grass around town is now at its loveliest stage. Mrs. W. A. Warren, 2011 3rd Ave., has one and Mrs. Evetts Haley, 2613 3rd Ave., has two, all are beautiful. This tall, ornamental grass is a native of South America. It does well here. It's large, thick, feathery, silver-white panicles waving in the breeze are a wonderful sight. These plumes will keep well for winter bouquets and they are nice in any bouquet now. Once started they grow larger every year, making a nice addition to any yard.

Riding around Randall County one finds much cotton growing. It looks good. In talking to Mr. and Mrs. Bob Campbell, farmers of Wildorado, they said cotton was now a good crop and makes lots of cotton to the acre. Bob said the reason he had started raising cotton was because his irrigation well would not water all his land at one time, so he raises three crops that do not need watering at the same time. He raises wheat first, then starts row crop, then cotton gives him a third crop. All the cotton we have seen is grown with irrigation.

Marie Cooper Speaks To Happy Study Club

Marie Cooper of Marie's Beauty Salon gave a talk on hair styling and good grooming at the Happy Study Club Thursday night. Betty Patterson of Marie's Beauty Salon accompanied Mrs. Cooper.

Refreshments were served to a large group.

Judging from the sudden daytime quiet in our block, a Pied Piper has been to town.

We aren't sure about the "great rats, small rats, lean rats, brawny rats." They, along with those brown, black, gray and tawny, may still frolic through our woodpiles and flour bins. But the children have disappeared.

It has dawned on us slowly these last two weeks. Out of doors all summer, the neighborhood youngsters have had command. Bicycles, cop-and-robber games, dogs and laughter have added a cheerful overtone to the bright mornings and the drowsy afternoons.

The knock at the door, about half the time, was a serious young salesman, offering eggs, doughnuts, magazines or light bulbs for a price. During three carefree months, minutes and hours have been traded lightly for a shout or a song.

But this week, as we sat on the back porch shelling peas or worked in the flower beds, we felt the silence grow pointed. Gradually, we realized that life in our block is no longer vibrant with youth. From nine until four, at least, it is now the stolid life of the grown-up.

Yes, there's no question about it: the Pied Piper in his parti-colored suit has paid us a visit. And to the children, no doubt, it looks as if the gay tune from his pipe has led them into a mountain cave. A cave where hard wooden seats are arranged in rows; where a stranger makes demands and expects to have them obeyed; where the bright warm days tipped with autumn are theirs only through an open window for most of the day.

But unlike his legendary counterpart in Germany seven centuries ago, our strange visitor has brought no fear—only order and growth.

SoRelle Hostess to Women's Auxiliary

The Women's Auxiliary of the Presbyterian Church met with Mrs. Laura SoRelle Tuesday for their September meeting. She was assisted by Mrs. T. Winston Wilbanks and Mrs. J. E. Kelso.

Miss Darthula Walker presided. Opening prayer was given by Mrs. Ernest Ulmer. The Bible study from Ephesians 4 was given by Mrs. L. A. Donnell. Special education and action from Psalms 48 was presented by Mrs. Ed Harrell. Mrs. A. A. Clark closed the meeting with prayer. A short business meeting followed.

Thirteen members were served refreshments by the hostesses.

Mrs. E. A. Brown will be hostess to the group on Oct. 23.

Skit Shows Hidden Talent in Canyon

Hidden talent was revealed in the humorous skit given at the first P-TA meeting of the year last week by Mrs. Jack Swazell, Mrs. George Cristy, Mrs. Dwayne Coggin, Mrs. David Mathis, Clark Jarnagin, Bill Wilson, Mike Wilson, Raymond Raillard, Truett Hull and Bud Parker.

The skit showed a father's attitude toward P-TA, and had a gay ninties setting.

A barber shop sextette including J. B. Roberts, Truett Hull, Emmett Smith, Royal Brantley, Bill Davis and Dr. Dudley Moore also provided entertainment.

Ed Bergdorf was given an award for being the youngest father present, while N. R. Fowler and E. L. Cranmer were honored for having the largest number of children in school.

During the business session, a motion for the P-TA to sponsor a monthly social for high school students was tabled for later consideration after a discussion of the question.

Coffee, Cokes and doughnuts were served during the social hour following the meeting.

The program for the next meeting will be a panel discussion on school finance. The meeting will be Oct. 18.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gidden are spending a few days in Canyon visiting Mrs. Gidden's father, J. W. McCrerey. The Giddens are moving from Mobile, Ala., to Meeker, Colo.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Petty and young son, Terry Michael, of Odessa spent last Wednesday and Thursday with Mrs. Petty's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Furlow.

State Capitol NEWS

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd has asked the press of Texas to sponsor 12 bills in the 1957 Legislature. They pertain largely to publication laws. In Shepperd's opinion, such laws would have prevented the land, insurance and Duval County scandals.

Shepperd, whose term expires in January, addressed the 6th Annual Fall Meeting of the Texas Press Association, in Austin.

He recommended passage of legislation that would require the land office to publish an official notice in a newspaper in the home county of each veteran applying for a loan under the Veterans' Land Program. This, so that hometown people will know that such an application has been filed.

Also suggested was publication of a financial statement by insurance companies, such as is required of banks and building and loan companies handling the people's money.

A strict law, making it "an absolute, mandatory requirement" that all elected public officials handling the public's money make a public accounting of same at regular intervals was cited by Shepperd as a necessity "to protect the honest public official as well as to protect the public from the dishonest public official."

Much deception is being fostered upon the people by failure of some officials to publish the full text of ordinances, said Shepperd. He referred to the publication of descriptive captions only, or mere titles, which do not give sufficient notice to the public.

He cited the imperative need for publication of annual financial statements by each school district — before another scandal rocks the state. Ditto for publication of the proceedings of county commissioners' courts, and meetings of all boards, commissions and other agencies of the state, city, county or other political subdivision — and opening these meetings to the public.

Other needed laws dealt with means of recovering money unlawfully expended or misappropriated; the hiding of public records; requiring special audits; fixing penalties for filing false reports; establishing venue for the prosecution of any state official who refuses to testify on the grounds of self-incrimination.

Shepperd emphasized his remarks with this statement: "It is the duty of the press to keep the door of the public office open . . . to see that public officials remain public in every sense of the word. For this purpose, this country has created and maintained a free press."

Fund Regulation Urged

A bill to regulate labor union welfare funds is to be introduced in the next Legislature.

Rep. Tom Joseph of Waco said in a recent Austin statement he will back such a law. Supervision would be either by the Insurance Commission or State Banking Department, he said.

Joseph said he believed an excessive portion of welfare payments goes to union fund managers, and too little to workers.

Roads of the Future

Highway construction under the new multi-million-dollar federal-state building program is designed to meet anticipated traffic conditions of 20 years from now.

State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer said crossroads and railroad crossings will be either separated or eliminated. Hills will be graded down to allow for speeds of 70, 60 and 50 miles per hour, depending on location. Roads will be either four-lane or two-lane with right-of-way for two more.

Texas' share of the projected nation-wide highway network will be 2,900 miles.

Roughage Program Under Way

After numerous delays, drought-hit Texas farmers now are getting federal aid to buy roughage for cattle.

Certificates good for $7.50 per ton are being issued through nearly 200 county office of the Farmers Home Administration. Hay, corn shucks and corn cobs, and cottonseed hulls are classed as roughage. Already a price rise in hay has been unofficially reported.

One million dollars was allocated for the program. Some farm leaders have predicted this will not be enough, but FHA officials say more money would be forthcoming if needed.

Crop Forecasts Down

Dwindling prospects in dryland areas have caused the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture to revise downward its estimate of Texas' 1956 cotton crop.

Forecast now is 3,460,000 bales. This is 140,000 bales less than originally predicted, 579,000 less than the 1955 crop.

USDA's rice crop estimate also tumbled this month — from 11,977,000 bags (100 lbs. each) to 10,841,000 bags.

Other forecasts: sorghum, 88,428,000 bushels; corn, 25,528,000 bushels; wheat, 28,275,000 bushels; pecans, 25,000,000 pounds. Texas' 1955 pecan crop was 38,000,000 pounds.

"Pappy" To Run Regardless

W. Lee O'Daniel is going to "personalize" the general election ballot.

Immediately after the State Supreme Court announced that his name could not appear on the printed ballots, "Pappy" said it will be written in "by the hands that rock the cradles . . . and their husbands and their grown sons and daughters."

Then he announced that he would conduct a write-in campaign.

Secretary of State Tom Reavley had refused to accept O'Daniel's filing as the nominee for governor on the ticket of the Constitution party because the former governor had been defeated as a candidate for the same office in the Democratic primary this year. And the court upheld Reavley's contention.

Short Snorts

Index of prices received by Texas farmers and ranchers has dipped two per cent, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture. At the same time farmers' living expenses rose two per cent.

Twenty-one more Texas counties have been designated drought disaster areas by USDA.

Low bids totaling $13,615,860 for 19 projects were received by the State Highway Department in the September contract letting.

Texas taxpayers made a $23,319 profoit on the recent sale of 34 tracts forfeited under the veterans land program. High bids totaled $238,319. Still retained by the state are 23 tracts on which no bids or too-low bids were received.

Thefts committed in Texas have increased 14.8 per cent during 1956, according to the Department of Public Safety. Murders and homicides have decreased slightly. Total so far for 1956 is 437.

State Selective Service Headquarters reports draft registration through August, 1956, at 43,000, compared with 44,000 a year ago.

Drought is blamed by the Texas Forest Service for the quadrupled outbreak of woodland fires during 1956. Latest figures for the year show 43,000 acres burned in 2,103 fires, compared to 11,345 acres in 989 fires last year.

Farm, Ranch Safety Council Talks On Basic Safe Tractor Operations

COLLEGE STATION—High on the list of subjects discussed by members of the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council in their fall meeting held at Waco on Sept. 11 was the problem of how to make rural Texans more safety conscious.

While the Council, composed of a group of men and women interested in making rural life safer and more pleasant, pondered the question, death struck only a few miles away. A farm tractor was being towed by a pickup and driven by a farm worker.

Apparently, because of excessive speed and a fast slow-down, the tractor jack-knifed and turned over several times killing the tractor driver. A terrible price to pay for the violation of a basic safety rule—that of moving farm equipment at a safe rate of speed regardless of whether equipment is being towed or is traveling under its own power.

Farm tractor fatalities, according to W. L. Ulich, extension agricultural engineer and secretary of the Council, have been on the increase in Texas this year. In July, two tractor operators on the South Plains were killed the same day in accidents.

One was caused from excessive speed on a rural road and the other when the tractor was driven too close to an irrigation ditch which was being filled with soil. Both tractors turned over on the drivers.

Tractors can be killers, says Ulich, when they are operated in a careless manner. The specialist urges all farmers and others who operate tractors and other power driven farm machinery to always guard against practices which involve the element of chance.

Don't try to make adjustments on machinery while the power is on or the machine is in operation. A hand, leg or life can be lost in an unguarded moment.

The Council is planning for more intensive work and requests the assistance of every interested person, organization, agency or group in carrying out their objective . . . that of preventing farm and home accidents in rural Texas.

Harvest Moon Shines On Fowls, Dairymen

COLLEGE STATION—The harvest moon of October will shine on a cornucopia bulging with plentiful foods. This despite the prolonged drouth which has cut deeply into agricultural production in many states of the nation.

The USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service, Southwestern Regional Office, Dallas, reports that protein-rich foods dominate the October list.

These include beef turkeys, stewing chickens, broilers and fryers, as well as eggs, peanut butter, cheese, milk and other dairy products.

Potatoes and cabbage are the only vegetables carried on the October listing of plentiful foods.

THIS IS WHERE TOMORROW STARTS

A new "inner car" gives you a NEW KIND of FORD for 1957! Coming October 3rd.

On Wednesday, October 3rd, Ford Dealers throughout the United States will unveil a new kind of automobile!

Cars are involved in every American's life. News of a new kind of car is the biggest kind of news to millions of Americans.

The Big New Kind of Ford is that kind of news . . . a car totally new in design from crest to trunk lock.

This completely new automotive package will sell at the traditionally low Ford prices.

This makes possible a new high standard of such honest-to-goodness value that it actually increases the purchasing power of your automobile dollar.

When you see it, other cars will look out of date, because . . .

This is Where Tomorrow Starts . . . with a Big New Kind of Ford!

The New Kind of Ford is the fullest, most eloquent expression of Ford's special personality—the youthful grace, the whiplash action—and the reputation for durability known wherever there's a road.

To all this we have added true elegance—a kind of elegance never before seen in the low-price field. To make a car truly elegant, you must start deep-down inside.

The New Inner Ford

The Inner Ford—the car you cannot see—is a very remarkable structure. Its frame is actually a cradle. Side members extend almost the full body width; they serve not only as supporting members but as concealed side bumpers of immense strength.

The New Ford Body

The new Ford body is a triumph of engineering in steel. The doors close with the solid finality of a bank vault. Even the door-lock button has been moved up front—easier for you to reach, but out of the children's reach.

All these features were engineered to give you a solid new kind of comfort.

The New Ford Ride

The New Kind of Ford sits six people as no other low-priced car has ever sat them—six elbows wide in each seat, with deep space around each one of six knees. And above all that space, there's hat room to spare for all six passengers.

The 1957 Ford rides low, solid, with a firm, deep road-holding feel. Yet it's a light-hearted, flight-hearted ride—this car is responsive, nimble, agile, with a proud easy movement.

The New Ford Choice

Ford offers not only one, but two sizes of cars . . . each on its own extended wheelbase . . . each with its own body shell . . . each with its own styling.

First, the two Fairlane Series on a 118-inch wheelbase. The Fairlane 500's come in 5 body types, a four-door sedan, a two-door sedan, a two- and four-door Victoria with no center pillars, and a convertible coupe. The same body types (except for the convertible) are available in the Fairlane Series.

Second, two Custom Series mounted on the 116-inch wheelbase chassis. In the Custom 300 Series, a four-door and a two-door sedan are distinguished from the Custom models by more luxurious interiors and elaborate trim. The Custom Series also includes a Business Sedan.

Beyond all these, you also have your choice of five Station Wagons—the famous glamour cruisers that are the champions in this field!

The New Ford Look

That low, low cradle-span frame means a low, low car. The Fairlane 500 is only four feet eight inches from road to roof! The Custom is just over four feet nine inches!

The new Ford is not only low—but long. Ford gives you more than 17 feet of elegant length in the Fairlane Series, a shade less in the Custom. It's a nice kind of fun just to look at it. It's high-priced in every way except price.

The New Ford Performance

You can have up to 245 wonderful Thunderbird horsepower in any Ford model. There's a moderate—and really moderate—extra charge for this engine of 312 cubic inches with its 4-barrel carburetor.

For "Six" lovers, we've got the 144-hp Mileage Maker Six. Whether you choose Six or V-8, the going is great!

Here is where your own tomorrow starts

It starts at your Ford Dealer's showroom!

The cars will be there on Wednesday, October 3.

These are the best Fords of our lives.

They are the first symbols out of Detroit of the new automotive age that is beginning for you.

This is where tomorrow starts—at your Ford Dealer's.

This is when your tomorrow starts—October 3rd.

Come in and see us for the Big New Kind of Ford!

The Eagle's Tale

31st Year | Published by The Canyon News for Canyon High School | Wednesday, September 26, 1956

Read It Now!!

The third edition of the Canyon High School STUDENT HANDBOOK has reached the hands of the public.

Sit down and read the "Handbook" some time. Discuss it with your parents. There's a lot of good information in it. Perhaps you would like to know about some club, such as the FHA or the FTA, or some honor, like the Junior Who's Who. Maybe you'd like to know what the graduation requirements are or the school policy for married students. Well, all of this is in the "Handbook."

Information on the most efficient way to change a course or withdraw from school is in the publication. For example, withdrawal from school is made easier if the student presents a statement from the parents, giving the reason for withdrawal, the date, and the name of the school which the student plans to enter. This statement should be presented to the principal and a withdrawal slip obtained. The signatures of the principal, each of the student's teachers, the librarian — and the class adviser should be obtained on the slip.

All of this and more is in the handbook. If we read it now, the handbook won't be read to us later.

Are You Safe?

First graders are usually thought of as the group who need to be extra careful at the beginning of the school year, but occasionally even high school students forget or ignore the rules of safe conduct.

Overloading a car is dangerous. It distracts the driver's attention from the road and hampers his movements. Six or seven students, including the driver, is a car load. And seven persons inside does not mean that there is room for more on the fenders. Bob Izzard, newscaster for radio station KGNC, was riding on a fender when another car ran into the first vehicle. For some time there was doubt that he would recover.

No one would want to run over a pedestrian, but a driver can't be blamed if a person darts into the street where there is no crosswalk. The city of Canyon has painted crosswalks in front of the high school for the students' use in crossing. If the city is nice enough to put pedestrian lanes there, surely, we, the student body, can use them.

Remember the old adage: "It's better to be safe than sorry."

Songs of CHS

For the benefit of freshmen and new students, The Eagle's Tale presents the school alma mater and fight song.

SCHOOL SONG

Our hearts are filled with gladness
And pride in Canyon High.
We'll play the game the live-long day,
Dishonor ne'er draws nigh,
We'll spend our lives in serving
For she has taught us how.
So here's our pledge, we'll give our best
For Canyon High School now.

☆ ☆

FIGHT SONG

Eagles, Eagles, fight, fight, fight,
We're gonna win this game today—
Come on and charge that line with all your might,
And show the world the fighting Eagles' way—
Eagles, Eagles, go, go, go,
For you're the best, that's plain to see—
So Eagles, fight, fight, fight,
So Eagles, go, go, go,
And Canyon High will win the victory.

Now I sit me down to study,
I pray thee Lord I won't go nutty!
And when I learn this crazy junk,
I pray thee Lord I will not Flunk.

Students Begin Publication Work

Work began by the staffs on the publications of Canyon High School 1956-57 annual and newspaper the first day of school.

Mrs. Nora Gilmore, sponsor of the annual, Soaring Wings, stressed the importance of the sale of advertising space to the local merchants so the staff can meet the debts of the last year for the publication of the yearbook.

The theme, which is never known until the annual is presented, approximately the middle of May, has been decided on by the staff.

The annual staff members are Aralene Bagley, Mary Sue Bolton, Janie Brotherton, Theora Cosby, Martha Harding, Mary Ann Irlbeck, and Virginia Walker.

This year's school newspaper staff, The Eagle's Tale, which is sponsored by Miss Marilyn A. Payne, has been studying and practicing the skills needed to write and publish the school news.

The Eagle's Tale staff is Annelle Dugan, Jimmie Hiltbrunner, Jane Ledbetter, John Menke, Theresa Mickey, Delores Wagner, and Ann Wheatley.

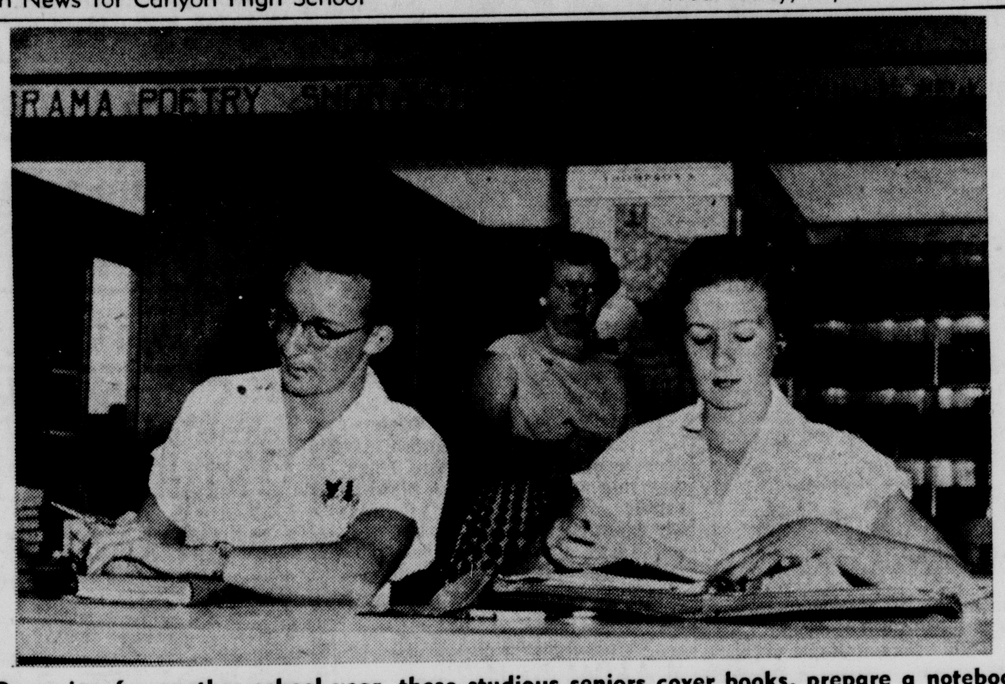

Make-Up Bulletin Given By Office

Do any of you teachers have trouble getting make-up work in on time? Or is it general trouble with accuracy and neatness?

Here is a bulletin which expresses the school's policy concerning make-up work and general rules for homework. It states:

1. In case a student is absent from one to three days the instructor should require that the student complete all make-up work within a period of five school days.
2. In case of an extended illness of a student, his teachers will hold a conference with the principal and determine a reasonable length of time in which the student's work must be completed.
3. Teachers should encourage students to keep their work completed regularly rather than permit them to put off doing assignments.
4. Be sure to devise some method by which you and the student will both know the work is due and that it has been turned in.
5. Encourage students to take pride in their work and in keeping it up to date.
6. Emphasize accuracy and neatness in all written work regardless of the subject. Remember, every teacher is a teacher of English.

The above information is quoted from a bulletin issued from the office of the high school principal, Mr. James E. Miller.

Honors Are Available To Students

Honors are available to every student of Canyon High School. In fact, according to the STUDENT HANDBOOK, the school officials desire that every possible student win at least one award.

Honors available to the pupils are class favorites, Personality King and Queen, Best Citizen Award, and Junior Who's Who.

Class Favorites are elected each year from each class. The pictures of both the boy and the girl appear in the school annual.

The Personality King and Queen are selected from the senior class by the student body in an election held in the spring. The Student Congress sponsors and conducts the election.

A senior girl is given the Best Citizen Award by the Daughters of the American Revolution. The class selects three girls, from which the faculty selects the winner of the award.

Six juniors are chosen for the Junior Who's Who. The group, chosen by the faculty, is selected on the basis of citizenship, scholarship, loyalty to the school, achievement, cooperation, and dependability.

P-TA Gives $5

$5.00 to be given away!

Prizes are to be awarded in grade school, junior high, and senior high school for a 100 per cent rating in parent membership in P-TA. These prizes will be given to the first class in each division which reports 100 per cent membership.

A prize of $2.50 will be given to the first room in grade school and junior high to report top score. The first class in high school to reach this rating will receive $5.00.

Spirit Boosted By Cheerleaders

Doom those demons! Ribbon tags with threatening slogans are being sold weekly by the cheerleaders in the halls of CHS.

Money from this project goes to the fund of the cheerleaders which is to pay for the girls' sweaters, poster expenses, and for goal post decorations.

Each Thursday and Friday, during football season, yell leaders will be in the hall selling these eye-catching ribbon tags and Canyon Eagle pennants. The purple and white pennants bear an Eagle which portrays fighting spirit. For each football game there will be a different spirit-building tag with a fitting slogan exhibiting the strong competitive feeling between the Eagles and their opponents.

Cheerleaders from last year are Cecilia Waters and Mary Sue Bolton who are seniors. Junior cheerleaders are Rachael Smith and Janet Wheeler. From the sophomore class is Bernice Green, and Nedra Fanning is the freshman cheerleader. The four undergraduates were elected last spring, and the seniors are second year members of the cheerleading squad.

New Faces Seen In CHS Halls

New faces are in Canyon High School halls in 1956.

In the way of school faculty the math teacher who is returning here this year is Mrs. A. K. Knott. Mrs. Suzanne Tatman joined the homemaking department. Assistant coach and science teacher is Mr. Lynn Hulsey.

Mrs. Suzanne Tatman graduated from West Texas High School in the summer of 1949 and also from West Texas State in January, 1953. Mrs. Tatman said, "I love being a teacher as well as a homemaker." Her hobbies are music and reading.

Graduating from Boulder, Colo., High School in 1921 and in 1925 from the University of California, Mrs. A. K. Knott was an honor student in school. Her hobbies are math and music.

Mr. Lynn Hulsey graduated from high school in 1940 and from the University of Texas and West Texas State College. He received his undergraduate degree at the university and the masters degree at WT.

Mr. Hulsey was selected as a member of the England All-Star basketball team while in the service. His team toured Europe in 1945 and 1946 playing service teams, winning 27 and losing 3 games. He was a corporal in the Air Force. When asked what his hobby was, the reporter was not surprised to hear it was his job.

1500 New Books In Use in CHS

Over 1,500 new textbooks are in use in Canyon High.

The books this year are very colorful compared to the ones in Mom and Dad's time. Books themselves cover a great deal of the latest facts in each field.

Periodically these revised editions replace the older books which are out of date. Choice of new book titles are made in the spring and new books are ordered for the number of students in school.

In Canyon High School this year there are new books for homemaking, physics, chemistry, biology, general science, driver education, health, new grammar books for all four years of English, speech and history books.

Club Accumulates Spanish Material

Periodicos! Foletos Ilustraciones! The mail is really piling up.

New Students Blaze Way

Have you got a compass for sale? Or a knapsack?

Well, during the first few weeks of school, a buyer could have been found in one of the freshmen.

Numerous were the questions those first few weeks of school. Freshman students asked where the classrooms were, how the lockers were numbered, how is this teacher to get along with, and similar questions. Several did not know to wait in the classrooms until they were called for lunch.

One new student was mixed up after band. Instead of going to civics, he went to plane geometry.

THE SMYTHES

Greetings!

Greetings from the staff of The Eagle's Tale for another school year.

This paper is the school's source of information on upcoming events and record of past happenings. The staff will be glad to cover an event of any school organization or class—if they know about it. An organization that desires coverage for an activity may have it by notifying Miss Marilyn A. Payne, journalism sponsor, or a member of the staff of the event.

In the past Canyon High School has had an outstanding record for cooperation and support of not only the school paper, but with everyone who is taking any extra-curricular activity or annual work. Students are urged to continue their fine spirit.

There is no security on this earth. Only opportunity. —Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Smythes Give Musical Assembly

Dorothy and Fred Smythe, Southern School assembly performers, entertained the school at its first assembly of the year on their twin electronic pianos.

Their type of music was brilliant, versatile, and unique. They offered a wide variety including popular, blues, Latin American, novelties, and Brahms.

Dorothy started her career at five and at eight she performed her first concert. She was the only member of her family free to serve in World War II. She enlisted in the Army Air Force as a WAC at the beginning of the last war. She was a control tower operator and worked with Special Services on shows and radio.

Fred started in his musical career at five also. He studied in New York and later in Central and South America. For a while Fred was in Washington, D. C., where he directed his own small orchestra. He was in World War II as a pilot and spent time in Special Service shows.

The interest of both were in Special Service shows and it was there that they met. Since their marriage they have been working as a team on their twin pianos and Latin American instruments.

Rockets Boom for Five Buff Scores As WT Defeats McMurry, 33-7

Signalling a Buffalo score, the rockets boomed and arched over the crowd of 5,000 fans six times Saturday night as West Texas State scalped the McMurry Indians 33-7 in a non-conference game.

The Buffs picked up two touchdowns in the second quarter, one in the third and the final tally in the fourth. McMurry was held to only one touchdown which came in the second quarter.

Fullback Charles Sanders scratched paydirt early in the second quarter for the first touchdown, ending a drive that started in the first quarter on the West Texas 48. Sanders scored on a 28-yard run over left end, and Tommy Coffey's extra point try was good.

With 2:14 left in the first half, Dave Corley matched Sanders' feat by driving over left tackle two yards for the second Buffalo tally. Archie Souter's kick was good to make the score 14-0.

McMurry bounded back after the second score to drive 63 yards for a touchdown in five plays. John McCrary provided the spark for the Indian drive, throwing a screen pass to Richard Toliver for 14 yards, making one on a run, and throwing two passes to Tommy Watkins, one for 33 yards and the other for 10 and the score. Weldon Brevard made one gain of five yards on a reverse during the drive.

The culminating pass from McCrary to Watkins came with only five seconds left to play. Robert Baker's extra point attempt was good, making the score 14-7 as the half ended.

Immediately after the halftime festivities, West Texas signed the death certificate for McMurry. Making the WT kickoff, the Indians were held to two yards in three plays, forcing McCrary to kick to Buffalo Ronald Mills on the WT 42.

Mills gathered in the pigskin and raced behind road-clearing blockers all the way to the goal-line for the third touchdown, which came when only 2½ minutes of the third quarter had been played. Coffey's kick was good to give the Buffs a 21-7 lead.

The rest of the third quarter was a series of three scrimmage plays and a punt for McMurry, followed by three scrimmage plays and a punt for West Texas.

In the middle of the fourth quarter, the Buffaloes gained the ball on the West Texas 4 when Sanders intercepted a pass from Bob Hayworth and ran to the WT 49 before being downed.

Taking off from there, Sanders gained two yards, Corley ran to the McMurry 34, then gained seven more yards on a quick opener. Mills went over right tackle for five yards and a first down on the McMurry 21.

Corley gained two more, then Sanders picked up four. Mills went over right tackle for three and Corley repeated over left tackle for two more and a first down on the McMurry 9. Sanders ran to the 5 and then sliced around left end for the fourth Buff touchdown. The clock showed 7:26 left in the game when Coffey's kick went wide.

The Buffs weren't through with McMurry, however. Another McMurry pass, this time thrown by McCrary, was intercepted by R. L. Rhoten on the McMurry 48 and he ran it down to the 22.

Don Beck gained five for the Buffs, Dale Wiley was held for no gain, Bobby Davis gained five and a first down on the 12 with a keeper play. Rhoten gained three on the draw play and Beck picked up an additional yard.

Beck set up the touchdown by taking a pitchout down to the four, where Rhoten went over right end to the end zone with 3:33 left. Jackie Vantrease's kick went wide, but the final score stood at 33-7.

The ground-gaining statistics belonged to Sanders, who picked up 100 of the 242 yards which went to West Texas. He was bunged up during the game and was out of play for more than a quarter.

Statistics of the game were:

	WT	Mc
First Downs	18	7
Rushing Yards	242	119
Pass Attempts	10	10
Pass Completions	4	6
Passing Yards	45	81
Passes Intercepted	2	0

Turnabout Buff Bees Beat ACC "B" 12-7 in Lions Game in Hereford

West Texas State's "B" football squad sprung a 'Jekyl and Hyde" performance in its season opener against Abilene Christian's reserve team at Hereford Friday. After a slow, fumbling first half, the young Buffs came alive to score twice in the last two quarters and win 12-7.

The young Abilene gridders bolted to a 7-0 lead the first time they got their hands on the ball. They marched 55 yards in 12 plays, Jerry Holley going over from the two for the touchdown. Pat Farr converted.

That's the way the first half ended, 7-0.

After the customary half-time pep session, the predominantly freshman Buff team started rolling under a full head of steam. Less than five minutes after the third quarter kickoff, the West Texans had narrowed the margin to 7-6.

Freshman quarterback John Carlile tossed a 13-yard pass to end Alvin Morrison, who had found his way in the end zone. Archie Souter's attempted place-kick was no good.

The Buffs scored the clincher in the fourth quarter, 10:33 remaining in the game. End Tommy Murray set up the winning drive with a pass interception on the Abilene Christian 43.

With Charles Denny and Souter doing most of the ball-carrying, along with a 19-yard run by Fred Apperson, the victors moved to ACC's 1 in five plays. Denny blasted through right tackle for the touchdown and again Souter's placement attempt was no good.

The game, viewed by 1,500 fans, was sponsored by the Hereford Lions Club.

Raymond Haddock Gets Eagle Rank

Raymond Haddock achieved the highest award in scouting and was presented with an Eagle Scout badge at a Randall District Court of Honor Monday night.

Eagles Beat Perryton For Third Win of Year

Laboring under a 12-2 deficit at halftime, the Canyon Eagles zoomed back in the second half to down the Perryton Rangers 30-12 in Buffalo Stadium Friday night in a 1AA-3AA non-conference football match.

Perryton controlled the ball all through the first half, taking two touchdowns and giving the Eagle a safety. The Rangers' first score came seven minutes and 17 seconds after the opening kickoff when Dempsey Gyger raced from the Canyon 33 yard line across the goal.

The Rangers gave Canyon the two-point safety just after the second quarter started. Forced to kick from the five-yard line against the high wind, Quarterback Tommy Johnson chose to step behind his own goal line and down the ball rather than kick and give Canyon a chance to run back for a touchdown.

The second Ranger touchdown came with only 48 seconds left in the first half. Canyon's Harlie Adams fumbled the ball on the Canyon 40, and it was recovered by Ranger Tackle Lawrence Ellzey. Four plays later, Wayman Epp scooted around end for the score.

Canyon's touchdowns came in the last half of the game. The first was 6½ minutes after the intermission when Adams made four yards. The second came 1:40 later when Don Britain ran three yards to score.

One minute and 22 seconds after the beginning of the fourth quarter, Britain scored again, this time on a 14-yard run. Adams made another about a minute later, but it was called back by a 15-yard holding penalty.

The final score came in the waning minutes of the game when Britain bulldozed across the goal line from the two, the clock showing 3:28 to play. Britain made four of four extra point attempts.

Perryton kicked off with the wind, which ranged upwards of 20 miles an hour, to begin the strange game. On the first play from scrimmage, the Eagle's Charles Neblett tossed a seven-yard pass to Adams, but it was recalled for an offsides penalty against Canyon.

Adams, who had averaged some 11 yards per carry for the first two Canyon games, made one yard to the 33, Neblett tried another pass then Adams made three more and Neblett was forced to kick against the wind, making only 25 yards.

Perryton took over on their own 39 and their first play from scrimmage was a razzle-dazzle double reverse pass from Kent Apple to Kelley Clark that worked for 46 yards. Clark was stopped by A. L. Pruett on the Canyon 15.

Ranger Dan Pearson made four yards, then five, but a penalty set the ball on the 20 and Apple tried another pass. Epp was tackled for no gain and Canyon took over on downs on their own 20.

After making only two yards in three plays, Canyon's Neblett kicked high, the wind caught the ball and it went out of bounds on the Canyon 34.

Epp ran from scrimmage to the 23, Dempsey Gyger to the 16, Epp to the 5 and Gyger went over for the score. Johnson's extra point try was no good.

After the kickoff, Eagle Eddie Boydston ran from the Canyon 36 to the 40, Adams made it to the 48. Britain was thrown for no gain, and Boydston and Adams tried once each for the first down. Neblett kicked against the wind again and set the ball 20 yards away on the Perryton 25.

Perryton ran five plays, making one first down, and the quarter ended just before the Rangers had a chance to kick on fourth down. With the wind to their faces, the Rangers kicked 30 yards to the one, where the ball went out of bounds.

Eagle Pruett immediately kicked back, shoving the ball a phenomenal 79 yards. The Eagles stiffened their defense, forcing Ranger Gyger to lose two yards and holding Pearson to no gain. A penalty helped Canyon, forcing Perryton back to their own three. Gyger made two yards to the five, and Johnson handed the Eagles the gratis safety.

On the kickoff from the 20, Britain ran the ball back to the Perryton 37 and it looked as if the Eagles might work for a touchdown. Boydston ran to the 30 but a penalty set the ball back on the 45. Neblett went to the 33, but a penalty put it back to the 38. Britain went to the 35 and Neblett threw an incompleted pass to give Perryton the ball on downs.

The Rangers ran four plays, making nine yards, to give the ball back to Canyon on downs on the Perryton 44. A penalty set the ball back to the Canyon 42 and Neblett completed a pass to Britain, good to the Perryton 43. Adams went to the 39 and Neblett threw another pass. Ranger Lanny Hargrove pulled Neblett's pass in on the 15 and ran to the 18.

Gyger scooted to the 47, and what looked like another Perryton touchdown march began. The Rangers crossed the mid-stripe and worked the ball to the Canyon 41. Apple threw another pass, but Eagle Pruett pulled it in on the 24 and raced back to the 44.

Adams took the ball there, but fumbled and lost it to Ranger Ellzey on the 40. Four plays later, Epp had made the second Ranger score. Johnson tried a keeper play for the extra point, but was stopped short of the goal line.

The kickoff was kept by Canyon, which made three plays in 48 seconds, one after the clock signaled the end of the half. Adams ran from the Canyon 46 to the Perryton 45. Neblett completed a pass to Britain, but it was called back for a penalty to the Canyon 40. The clock showed 21 seconds left.

Neblett took the ball for a pass, found no receivers open and ran for eight yards to the Canyon 48. The clock showed seven seconds. Adams took the ball to the Perryton 33, but that run, which ran the clock out, was called back for a penalty to the Canyon 33. For the final play of the half, run after the clock stopped, Neblett threw an incompleted pass.

During the intermission, the Eagles had a drink of rejuvenating water and came back to wrest control of the ball game from the hands of the Rangers.

Kicking off to the end zone, Canyon stopped the runback on the Perryton 10, held the Rangers to no total gain in three plays and gained the ball from a kick to the Perryton 44.

From there the Eagles went for their first touchdown in 10 plays. Adams lost one to the 45, made five to the 40 and Britain went for the first down on the 25.

Boydston went four yards to the 21, Adams made five to the 16 and three to the 13 for another first down.

Britain made eight yards, Neblett fumbled and recovered the ball for another yard, Adams was held for no gain on the four, then he bulled through for the score. Britain's kick was good to make the score 9-12.

Kicking to the end zone again, the Eagles held the Rangers to a two-yard gain then forced Johnson back to the 16 where he fumbled. The ball was covered by Funk and the Eagles took out for the goal line again.

Britain went to the seven, Boydston made a first down on the three. Britain then made the score and the extra point to put Canyon ahead of Perryton by a score of 16-12.

Perryton took the next kickoff and started scrimmage plays from the 23. Pearson and Gyger were held for no gain, Apple lost four on a fumble he recovered himself. A penalty against Canyon helped Perryton to the 24, but Johnson was forced to kick to the 50.

Repeating a pattern set after the halftime intermission, the Eagles took over and marched for another score.

Britain made nine, Adams seven for a first down, Britain four, Neblett threw two incomplete passes and Britain picked up a first down on the 24.

Adams lost two, Britain made six and the quarter ended with Canyon in possession of the ball. Moving against the wind, Adams made five yards, then one more to the 14. Britain took over and went for the third touchdown. His extra point was good again to make the score 23-12.

The Eagles kept their talons in the Rangers' hide and allowed only six yards three plays before recovering a Gyger fumble on the 50. Canyon worked the ball to the Perryton 26 in eight plays, including overcoming the handicap of 20 yards in penalties, but lost the ball on downs.

Running scared, the Rangers began a series of passes by Apple that was stopped on the second toss by Britain, who intercepted the ball on the Perryton 39 and ran back to the 37.

Adams lost two yards on the first play and was taken from the game by an injury. Britain took over the running chores then, going from the 44, where a penalty set the ball, to the three in one play, then to the two and finally over the goal line for the fourth touchdown. His point was good and the Eagles lighted up the scoreboard with the final score, 30-12.

Perryton had time for three plays before kicking to the Eagle 20. Canyon ran three plays, suffered a penalty and stalled out the game.

Are you using our cost-cutting service? Many local folks are with very satisfactory results! Here's why we believe we can help you cut the cost of producing eggs and increase profits.
Last fall a check on production of Purina-fed flocks brought out this fact. Records on more than one million layers showed they averaged only 4½ lbs. of feed per dozen eggs.
U. S. Government figures show that most flocks take 6 lbs. to do the job. So . . . Purina customers saved 1½ lbs. of feed or about 5 cents per dozen.
See or call us now. We'll bring our Poultry Profit Meter to your farm and help you shoot for lower egg production costs. Remember . . . service is free with the Checkerboard Bag.

NEWS LETTER

FROM CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGERS OF THE 18TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

Federal Regulation of Gas At the Wellhead

Most of you will recall the fight that was had last session on the gas bill. The bill finally passed both Houses of the Congress and was sent to the White House. President Eisenhower vetoed the bill, even though he had previously expressed his opinion that federal regulation of the producers of gas at the wellhead was not in keeping with the best interests of this country or our form of government.

Although he stated in his veto message that there was some indication of undue lobbying activities and based his veto on that reason, he did not impress me or others who were thoroughly familiar with the situation.

I suspected at the time, and so pointed out in a newsletter, that there was more politics in the veto than there was reasoning. The bill was either a good bill or a bad bill.

If it was a good bill, it should not have been vetoed, because somebody tried to pay somebody else some money in some lobbying activities.

If the bill was a bad bill, it should never have passed the Congress, lobbying activities or no lobbying activities. The truth is that it was a good bill, although I did not feel that it went far enough in freeing the producers from federal control.

Very few bills in our legislative history have been the subject of more extensive hearings than were had on this gas bill. It was thoroughly debated in the House of Representatives and passed the House by a vote of 209 to 203.

It then passed the Senate and went to the White House where it was vetoed. I thought the veto was wrong then, and I still think the same way.

The odd situation that has developed concerning the gas bill is simply this.

Rumors around Washington are that some ardent supporters of the President are seeking the active and financial support of the oil and gas people for the fall campaign. The O and G people are supposed to have been told that if such support is forthcoming, the President will sign the gas bill as soon as it gets to the White House next year.

I would advise the O and G people to be sure to read and understand exactly what is going on. In the first place, it should be pointed out that the phrase "as soon as it gets to the White House" is the tricky part of the language.

In the second place, it must be remembered that the bill passed the House by a final vote of 209 to 203 — a margin of only 6 votes. In the third place, it would not be difficult for several of the Members who voted for the bill to change their votes in the next session and vote against the bill.

It would only require a change of 4 votes to defeat the bill in the House.

This would mean that the bill would never reach the White House. Therefore, the promise of the ardent supporters of the President that the bill would be signed "as soon as it reaches the White House" would not be broken, simply because the bill had not reached the White House.

The truth is there is a propaganda campaign going on today against the oil and gas industry. The present Senate lobbying hearings are furnishing a good stage from which to criticize the oil and gas people at the producer level.

If this propaganda campaign is successful, it will hurt the economy of the Panhandle of Texas. The big utility companies in the East want to firm up their gas sources and fix it so that the producers and royalty owners must sell their gas into the pipelines for use in the East and Middle West.

They realize the possibility that many new discoveries for gas usage are highly probable, and that the value of gas as a natural resource will be measurably increased.

These utility companies are willing to subject gas producers to federal control in order to protect their own source of supply. These utility companies had better wake up.

Because federal control of the gas at one end will simply open the door to federal control of rates to be fixed at the consumer level, and these utility companies will find that such a policy as they now support, could easily result in nationalization of the fuel industry.

Certainly no free-thinking American would subscribe to that policy.

The propaganda campaign against the oil and gas people will not only hurt the economy of the oil and gas people themselves and the people who work at that particular field in the Panhandle of Texas, but it will hurt every business in our section of the country including the farmers and the ranchers.

What this country needs, and especially the Panhandle of Texas, is a restabilization of the segments of the economy that have been throttled in the last few years. I refer especially to the farmers and ranchers. Certainly we do not need any attacks on other segments of the economy in our District.

A Sport Reports

By DICK KRANZ

Perhaps, the Dimmitt Bobcats are getting a bit discouraged and frown when they hear the old saying, "A good defense is a good offense."

The Bobcats, tied with Tulia for low-rung laurels among District 1-AA teams, have scored 54 points in three games, that's an average of 18 points a contest, and yet Dimmitt has lost three times.

Tulia, in contrast, has scored just seven points in dropping its first three games.

Canyon and Muleshoe, both having close calls, remained the only undefeated and untied District 1-AA elevens. Olton is unbeaten but battled rugged Littlefield to a 12-12 deadlock. Perryton frightened Canyon for a half and Muleshoe just snuck by Morton, 7-0.

Canyon's Harlie Adams, pretty well bottled up by Perryton last Friday, managed to keep his scoring leadership among the district's players. Adams made one touchdown giving him eight in three games for 48 points.

However, Canyon teammate Don Britain, crossing the goal three times and converting four PAT-tries, now has 46 points. Bill Black of Muleshoe is third with 26 points.

The leading pass receiver in the district is Dimmitt end Gary Cleaver who has caught three touchdown passes, snaring two last Friday.

Records of District 1-AA teams are: Canyon 3-0; Muleshoe 3-0; Olton 2-0-1; Dalhart 0-2-1; Tulia 0-3; Dimmitt 0-3.

Texas Tech, the newly admitted member of the Southwest Conference, wasn't very impressive in losing to Texas Western, 17-13, last weekend and for the first time in several years close followers of the Red Raiders aren't looking with optimism on the season.

Recalling their 32-0 loss to Texas Christian in a televised game, Texas Tech may not be looking forward to Saturday afternoon when television cameras lurk above as the Red Raiders play Baylor at Waco—especially in light of the Texas Western game.

The game will be carried on KGNC-TV Saturday afternoon. Another professional game will be telecast over KFDA-TV Sunday and the baseball game-of-the-week will be on KFDA-TV Saturday for the final showing this season.

A Texas Tech scout watching West Texas defeat McMurry last week thought Buffalo guard Joe Brooks was the keyman in the West Texas defense. And he was impressed with the running of Charlie Sanders and the play of Bubba Hillman for West Texas.

The Buffaloes will be renewing an old football series with Sul Ross this Saturday. The teams haven't met on the gridiron since 1939. Al Milch, Sul Ross coach, personally scouted West Texas when the Buffs beat Corpus Christi.

The six Border Conference teams evenly divided six games with non-conference foes, while Southwest Conference members, excluding Texas Tech, won six of seven games with intersectional foes. Only Texas, taking a 44-20 loss at the hands of Southern California dimmed the SWC record. Naturally, the biggest feather-in-the-cap went to Southern Methodist for its upset of Notre Dame.

Arkansas had a tough time with Hardin-Simmons of the Border Conference and Baylor nipped California by one point.
